

Communication Across the Generations Workshop

If Your Company Employs A Multigenerational Workforce, Keep Reading!

Workshop Description:

This is a 3-hour interactive, lighthearted (fun, yet informative!) workshop/dialogue between the generations. Learn how cross-generational communication can help your workplace become more profitable and productive! Participants will engage in interactive dialogue across the generations, and have the opportunity to ask the questions they've had on their minds but never knew how to ask.

Lisa & Simma joined professional forces to create this info-packed workshop to help your multigenerational workforce: Improve situational dialogue; understand personal filters; breakdown biases and assumptions; better understand generational dynamics; bridge the (5) key differences in communication across the generations; and much more!

About Lisa Orrell:

Lisa Orrell is a leading Millennial & Generation Relations Expert, and author of the popular book, Millennials Incorporated (on Amazon). She is an in-demand speaker and consultant hired by well-known companies, such as Paul Mitchell, Cisco, and Blue Cross/Blue Shield about how to effectively recruit, manage, motivate, and retain Millennial employees. She also conducts on-boarding workshops for their Millennial new-hires, so she knows what makes Gen Y tick!
